State, local agencies gear up to help former BFS employees

By ALISON ALOISIO

As Bethel Furniture Stock employees struggle with where to go from here following last week's layoffs, local and state agencies are joining forces to try to help them.

A meeting with representatives of the Maine Department of Labor and SAD44 Adult Education was scheduled for yesterday (Wednesday).

All 75 employees of the wood products company were terminated last Wednesday. Some will be brought back to fill existing orders for products, according to Leon Favreau, company president.

At the same time they were told of the layoffs, Favreau said, employees were notified their insurance was discontinued, effective that day.

"We agonized over (discontinuing insurance) for a long time," he said, trying unsuccessfully to figure out another interim insurance option.

He said that because BFS is a self-insured company, it is subject to federal law, not state. If the health insurance had been through a plan such as Blue Cross, BFS would be required to give a 10-day notice to employees, Favreau said.

Park City's gain is Newry's loss

AP/MICHAEL DANIELS

The American Skiing Company's long-rumored move west is now official.

ASC announced Friday that it has begun shifting senior management and other corporate positions from Maine to Park City, Utah.

The financially troubled ski resort operator, owner of the Steamboat ski resort, said it is locating about 45 jobs in Park City, to focus more attention on its resorts in the West.

But only about five or six current jobs at the company's Newry headquarters will be moved, said spokesman Eric Preusse. ASC will keep about 40 corporate positions in Newry, Preusse said.

"We're not laying off anyone as a result of this move," he said. "We're going to work to make sure that there are no job losses."

In a prepared statement, B.J. Fair, ASC's CEO said: "Newry and neighboring Bethel have been the company's headquarters since its inception, and we have enjoyed the strong support of the community as well as the state. Bethel offers an ideal setting for snow sports and outdoor recreation, and we remain committed to the community and the ongoing success of Sunday River Ski Resort. Our decision to move certain strategic functions was made to allow the company to

Survey asks Woodstock residents to help shape their town's future

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock townspeople checking their mailboxes next week should find a questionnaire asking what they like, and don't like, about their town.

The Woodstock Comprehensive Plan Committee will send out the four-question survey as part of the information-gathering phase of its work.

Members have set a goal to have a comprehensive plan proposal ready for the annual Town Meeting in March.

The plan will provide general guidelines for directing development in Woodstock over the next few years. Voters approved the creation of the CP committee at this year's Town Meeting.

The questions will take the following general form: 1) What do you value about Woodstock?; 2) What bothers you about Woodstock?; 3) What do you see as the most important issues facing the town? (a list of choices will be provided); and 4) What suggestions do you have for the Comprehensive Plan Committee for their consideration?

Question 3 will offer areas in which committee members are currently gathering background data. Topics include housing and transportation, jobs, natural resources, recreation, and population and demographics, among others.

Anyone living in town who does not receive a questionnaire in the mail may pick one up at the Town Office. Respondents are asked to mail them back, or drop them at the office, by July 15. But be-

New federal rules mean no more Title I tutors in elementary classrooms

Innovative SAD44 program must end

By ALISON ALOISIO

A unique and apparently effective classroom tutoring program that helps SAD44 elementary students with reading and math will be left behind this fall, thanks to the new "No Child Left Behind" federal education act.

Title I has long provided federal funds to offer extra help to elementary students. The program traditionally saw Title I teachers often take students out of their classrooms for extra help.

Five years ago, SAD44 reorganized its program to instead place part-time tutors — between 25 and 30 of them — in many classrooms.

"It was a second set of hands in the classroom that teachers could depend on," David Murphy, principal of Telstar middle and high schools, told the School Board recently. "I'm not aware of any other (school) systems in Maine that do it."

Murphy was principal of SAD44 elementary schools before taking over at Telstar this year, and was involved in the implementation of the tutor program.

But in January of this year, President Bush sent to Congress his "No Child Left Behind" plan for comprehensive education reform.

The resulting act, in an effort to strengthen teacher quality, now requires Title I employees hired after Jan. 8 of this year be certified educational technicians or teachers.

Murphy said many of the current SAD44 tutors are educators who were formerly certified, or are working toward that status.

Because of the new requirement, the tutor program, if left in place, would "disintegrate around us," said Murphy, as some uncertified but "grandfathered" tutors continued to work while a new system utilizing fewer, but certified, personnel was gradually phased in.

"It would be better to have a program in place that we can depend on, rather than one that's falling down around us," he said.

The SAD44 administration now plans to set up a complete new program for the fall with certified personnel.

Bethel selectmen ponder: Take the low bid, or stick with a proven quality?

By MICHAEL DANIELS

If you're buying a new vehicle, do you go with a brand you know, from a dealer with a strong track record for service — or do you simply buy the lowest-cost unit that meets your specs?

Bethel selectmen — with emphatic input from Road Foreman Bob Pilgrim — debated the question last week.

They opted in the end to go with the "lowest cost" choice.

Maybe.

At issue was the purchase of a new plow truck for the Highway Department.

At the annual Town Meeting earlier this month, voters approved spending $73,000 to purchase and equip a new truck. The town then put its specs out to bid.

Five bids were received. They ranged (net cost, after trade in) from $40,632 to $61,084.

The three most costly bids were for International trucks, the Highway Department's traditional choice.

The town manager and Pilgrim both recommended the town go not with the overall low bid, but the middle of the three International bids.

That bid, for $46,555, was from Morrison Motors in Mexico. It was $255 more than a bid from a dealer in Herman.

Town Manager Scott Cole said he was making the recommendation because the town crew was already familiar with the operation and maintenance requirements for Internationals, the likelihood of spare parts being available in the town garage was greater with an International, and because the town's previous experience with Morrison Motors was good.

Selectman Don Bennett, whose one company also deals with Morrison, agreed on the last point, especially on Morrison's being available day or night.

Pilgrim noted that when the town has plow problems, it is likely to be when the vehicles are most needed, and "in the middle of any kind of weather the man (Morrison) is there."

Bennett also pointed out the value of having a vehicle the town was already familiar with. "We have International trucks right there now," he said. "Why have an odd-ball?"

"For $6,000 I guess," retorted Selectman Jack Cross, who ultimately opted, along with Al Barth and Reggie Brown, to go with the lowest bid.

Cross also argued that with such trucks, one brand was pretty much the same as another. The only real differences among the various brands, he said, was the cab.

"They all have the same motors, the same rear ends, the same

THE CHALLENGES AHEAD

To the Editor:

I will soon be leaving Newry, and this seems like a good time to retire from my position as SAD44 school director representing Newry.

To my mind SAD44 is in pretty good shape. There is an excellent administration in place. An outstanding teaching staff is doing a fine job and is doing better all the time. New initiatives in curriculum and assessment are moving forward. The physical plant is as good as can be expected and — with the forthcoming improvements of water, sewer, security and internal communication systems at Telstar — is certainly adequate to the task.

But some challenges remain:

School funding is a major challenge. As long as our state representatives find themselves unable to properly fund education through state appropriations, the school funding burden will be passed on to the local communities. As the state reduces their contribution — as they did this year for SAD44 — local taxes must go up to cover the deficit or education will suffer. I thank the community for recognizing the need to maintain funding for our schools despite the state's inability to do their part, and I hope the community will continue to do so. But I also hope the members of the community will hold their elected state representative accountable for the state's continuing inability to fund education at the agreed-upon level. Please talk with them, but be sure they understand that words aren't going to be enough.

At this time, I see the district's greatest challenge to be that of student aspirations, and I believe that this is a challenge that extends well beyond the scope of our schools. Young people will almost always achieve what they believe they can achieve. We have an educational facility in place that is well equipped to support all students as they work toward whatever life goals to which they may aspire. But it is the task of all community members — each and every one of us — to encourage our young people to dream, to support them in their aspirations and to recognize them for their achievements however small or great they may be.

Our kids are going to do pretty much what they believe they can do. Let's be sure we encourage them to believe big enough.

I thank the people of Newry for giving me the opportunity to serve and I thank the people of SAD44 for supporting the work of their elected school directors.

MIDSUMMER FESTIVAL THANKS

To the Editor:

Once upon a time, there lived a Tree Goddess. She was very beautiful and had delicate birch leaves for hair. Her feet were graceful and she carried with her a nest of three baby birds.

One day as she moved gracefully along, there came streaking toward her the Flying Falcon, a fearsome gray creature who moved with amazing speed. Tree Goddess was afraid, but could not run away. She cried out for help, hoping someone would hear her.

At that very moment a great sound was heard, and from the neighboring hills there appeared a gigantic rolling cage. What could it mean? Was help at hand? The Flying Falcon, too, heard the grinding wheels of the Yardsale Cage as it approached. Flapping his wings, he headed off to the North, though clearly not forever.

As the great rolling cage came closer, Tree Goddess suddenly became aware that her dear friend Inchworm was directly in its path. Oh dear! Inchworm could never move quickly enough to avoid being crushed. What would Tree Goddess do to warn him?

Then she remembered what day it was, the Summer Solstice, and called out to the sky for help.

Once before when she had needed a true friend, Lupine Luna had come down to offer help and lend her wise advice. And so, again she called out, because now the Great Yardsale was coming closer, spewing debris right and left as it tumbled ahead, directly toward the spot where Inchworm was.

Just then from beyond the meadow there appeared the tall and graceful figure of Lupine Luna, surrounded by little children. She was coming, but would she make it in time? At the last possible moment, Lupine Luna reached down with one of her great hands and plucked Inchworm out of Yardsale's path. Inchworm was saved.

Tree Goddess smiled thankfully at Luna. "You have helped us to survive. Thank you for making this day so beautiful. We will remember you each year when the day is longest. May you enjoy this day, and every day and may your flowers grow and be happy."

And thank you everyone.

TEEN QUEST THANKS

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the Bethel Inn, Sunday River Ski Resort, and the Bethel Recreation Board for supporting the new Teen Quest Bethel program; our golfing, mountain biking and canoe/kayak activities all started last week and will be running on Tuesdays and Fridays through July and possibly in August, if enough interest. This is the teen-level offshoot of Camp Sunday River. Many people have been asking about our "Fear Factor" activities scheduled for Tuesdays, July 9, 16 and 23. These will be in the challenge genre — things like rappelling, climbing, building a Tyrolean bridge across the Androscoggin and eating at least a few (gummy?) worms.

There is still room to sign up for most of the Teen Quest options, but call now because enrollment is limited (824-4224 or 824-6620).

Teen Quest sponsors are Marie Hickey, Mahoosuc Mountain School, Jeff and Pattie Parsons, Bethel Outdoor Adventure.

PATHWAY COMMITTEE SEEKS GARDENERS

To the Editor:

One of the new pleasures in Bethel is our recently completed Bethel Parkway, which runs for .6 mile along the Androscoggin River from Davis Park to its current terminus at Route 2 just before the bridge. You see people on it at most times of the day, walking alone or with human or canine companions, bicycling, or jogging. Many kids can be seen enjoying the skateboard area.

The Bethel Conservation Commission has been spearheading an effort to create a long-range plan for landscaping the new Pathway, using plants native to Maine or New England primarily. This year, our focus is on the two entrances to the Pathway.

With the approval of the selectmen and the cooperation of the town road crew, planting areas at the Route 2 end, by the new sign, and at the Route 26 end where Route 26 turns onto the Parkway have been dug. Preparation and planting will be done between June 29 and July 2.

The purpose of this letter is to encourage anyone who enjoys gardening and working outdoors to join the Pathway Committee in this effort. Volunteers don't have to have a green thumb, just a willingness to come out and help us create two gardens that will welcome people to the Pathway. There are rocks that need to be picked out, peat moss that needs to be dug in, holes to be dug, plants to be planted, mulch to be spread. Also, we need to remove yards of silt fence left by the contractor.

Following the adage that "Many hands make light work," we invite interested persons to join the members of the Pathway Committee and help us get these gardens planted. Give one hour or several, on one day or two, and have the satisfaction of making Bethel an even more special place to live.

Anyone who would like to join this effort may call 824-0508 and tell me the day and time they can come and the tasks they would like to help with.

LEARNING MORE ABOUT SENIOR COLLEGE

To the Editor:

On Monday, June 17, Western Mountains Senior College held its first official Reception/Open House at the Bethel Historical Society's Moses Mason House to introduce its program to the community. Those attending heard an address by Rabbi Sky and learned about the courses being offered this fall. Members also were able to sign up for the summer field trip to Forest Lodge, the home of Louise Dickinson Rich.

Rabbi Sky was instrumental in founding the first Senior College program in Portland at the University of Southern Maine. There are now 14 Senior Colleges in Maine, from Bethel to Belfast, Portland to Farmington. The mission of Western Mountains Senior College, based here in Bethel, is to provide intellectually stimulating learning opportunities and activities for persons over 55 years of age, and their spouses or partners. Membership is open to residents of any town in the Western Mountains area. This is a program that celebrates learning, that offers new opportunities to stretch ourselves in different ways, in an atmosphere of openness and exploration. As Rabbi Sky put it, "Here is study for the sake of study with no tests or grades."

Courses being offered this fall include Drama, Poetry and Special Topics in Biology. Other courses are being developed; course descriptions and registration forms will be available in early August. They will be mailed to members and all those on our mailing list.

Anyone unable to attend the Open House, but interested in learning more about WMSC and becoming a member, or being on our mailing list, please call the Adult Education office at 824-2780, or either Jan Todd (824-3209) or Jackie Cressy (824-0508).

WAY TO GO, SON

To the Editor:

I want to congratulate Brian Sessions for a job well done for the race in District 68, all by himself, in my opinion, deserted by his chair and the Democratic Party leaders. They, in my opinion, threw all their clout behind the other candidate and helped her set up committees in each town, and at one point asked Brian to withdraw from the race.

When the going was tough and nobody wanted to run, he was a good candidate, but after (state Rep. Tom) Winsor was termed out, they decided they would choose who would run for the office, and evidently he was not good enough at this point. I guess that he doesn't know enough wealthy people to let him represent the common man.

Thanks to all the voters who have stood behind my son and have always given him support.

transmission — everything's the same," he said. "I've got three kinds of trucks and they all take the same things."

But Pilgrim maintained there were important differences, and he said he had been warned by a number of people of problems with the brand of truck the low bid would buy.

Brown, however, expressed frustration with the strong brand preferences of town departments. "Why," he asked, "is it the only thing the Fire Department can have is Kenworth; the only thing the Police Department can have is Ford; and the town garage — all they can have is International?"

And Barth said the town's practice on expensive purchases has been to go with the low bid "unless there are compelling reasons, and I haven't seen a compelling reason."

Board Chairman Dutch Dresser disagreed. "I've heard what I call compelling reasons," said Dresser, who is responsible for Gould Academy's computer system. "I know full well it's easier for me to maintain a school full of one kind of computer than a school full of three kinds."

But, he said, when it came to such matters as truck preferences, especially with brands, debate on pros and cons could go on for hours.

"I've got a hunch we're in a religious war here," he said, "and usually those don't end very well."

Following the 3-2 vote to accept the low bid, Cole noted the selectmen could reconsider, and put the matter on the agenda for their next week's meeting.

If any of the three members who voted in the majority have second thoughts, the matter will likely be taken up again here.

Employees

Paul Luce of the Department of Labor said this week's meeting would include information on getting health insurance through the MaineCare program.

"It's very affordable," he said, and employees would become eligible as their income declines because of the layoffs.

Information on education and retraining programs was also expected to be provided. SAD44 adult education typically provides resources and training for laid-off workers. Outgoing director Cathy Newell said this will be a more difficult situation than others her department has dealt with because "it came on so suddenly," she said.

In contrast, layoffs at Gilbert Manufacturing in Locke Mills were anticipated and happened over a period of time, allowing more time for planning. But, Newell said, "We'll do what we have to."

Newell said she was "shocked" at the layoffs. "I have a history with them," she said. "A workplace grant we had in 1991 was very successful (in aiding employees to earn GED). I've always felt very attached to that place."

Town Manager Scott Cole said he was also surprised at the company's move. "It's very discouraging. I hope the state can do something to mitigate the obvious impact," he said.

Of the 75 employees, only four, including Favreau, are from New Hampshire, he said.

Title I

The district receives about $180,000 in Title I funding a year, with between $160,000 and $170,000 of that going to pay the personnel.

Murphy said dismantling the tutor system "is really unfortunate. It provided consistency in the classroom," he said.

He also said that when a classroom teacher was ill, the tutor could often take over as the substitute for the day, and be in a position to provide effective instruction.

Murphy said he is not sure what form the Title I services will now take. Administrators will explore options this summer, with significant input from newly-hired elementary principal Rick Colpitts.

SAD44 may lose $35,000 in state aid

BETHEL—SAD44 would lose $35,000 in state aid for the coming school year under a proposal by Gov. Angus King to make up a shortfall in the state budget. But Supt. Kent Rosberg said he does not believe it would require any special local budget action. "If that's what it is, we should be okay," he said Monday. He said his recommendation would be to "leave it as it is, and know as we go along that we'll have $35,000 less in revenue, and make sure our expenses match up." The district had been scheduled to receive a total of $2.2 million in aid before the cuts. King is proposing to take $10 million total from the state education budget. He does not need Legislative approval to do so, and is expected to make a final decision on the amount in early July.

Two new SAD44 directors for Newry

NEWRY—Selectmen Tuesday appointed Bill Brown and Kathi Schandemeier to the SAD44 School Board to serve until the next annual Town Meeting. They will replace Dave Langlois and Whitney Gray, who are both moving out of town. Langlois' term expires in 2004 and Gray's in 2005. Elections to finish out the terms will take place at the March Town Meeting. (See Letter to the Editor from Langlois, page 2.)

Another homer at Freedom Field

NEWRY—Doug Costello, 12, of the Bethel Red Sox last Monday hit what is believed to be the second home run in the eight-year history of Hi Berry's Freedom Field. The Citizen reported in an article last week that Matt Newell, who recently graduated from Telstar High School, was the only Little Leaguer to hit a ball over the outfield fence. But Costello changed that with a blast over the center field fence against a team from Mechanic Falls.

Mixed unemployment figures

RUMFORD—May unemployment rates declined in four of five western Maine labor market areas because of seasonal job gains, according to Gerard Dennison, the state Department of Labor's senior economic analyst for the region. The Rumford area rate went up to 8.4 percent, from 7.7 percent in April, because of layoffs at Mead and seasonal layoffs at Sunday River and Mt. Abram ski resorts. Dennison described the local economy as "sluggish, with no overall employment growth." In Norway-Paris, the rate fell from 5.7 percent in April to 5 percent in May, attributed to seasonal growth in construction, retail trade and services. The region's unemployment rate has been below the state average for five consecutive months.

Lane on the mend

PARIS—Rob Lane, 31, is continuing his rehabilitation from injuries he suffered March 12 in a snowboarding accident at Sunday River Ski Resort. Lane, who ran a ski lift at the resort, fractured his skull in a fall and is confined to a wheelchair. He is working to regain use of his extremities. A new wheelchair ramp was recently constructed for him at his mother's home in North Paris.

Dump truck collides with train

PERU—A Farmington truck driver escaped injury Monday when he hit the side of a train engine at a crossing on Main Street. Scott Presby, 40, was driving a 1978 Mack dump truck. He said he didn't hear the crossing bells or see the lights, according to police. The truck was not dragged by the train.

Bear Rips celebration with Trek

BETHEL—This year's Source to the Sea Canoe Trek, scheduled for July 5 through 25, will include a celebration/picnic July 12 at Moran's Landing at Bear River Rips. Located at the confluence with the Androscoggin River, the property for the canoe landing was purchased last year by the Mahoosuc Land Trust from Bob and Cynthia Moran-Laux. For more information, call 824-3806. The Canoe Trek begins at the Magalloway River in New Hampshire and ends 21 days later in the Atlantic. The trek is organized as a series of day trips along the river.

Bike club formed

BETHEL—The Western Maine Pedalers Bike Club has recently been established to promote bike riding for all ages and ability levels. Activities will include club rides, clinics and a year-end cookout. Membership fees are $20 individual and $30 family. For more information call 364-7946.

Still space at soccer camp

BETHEL—The Bethel Soccer Day Camp is still accepting players for a week of soccer from July 22 to 26. Boys and girls ages 6 to 9 will play from 9 a.m. to noon. Ages 10 to 12 will meet from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Each camper will also receive a shirt and soccer ball. The cost is $65. To register, or for more information, call Brett Shifrin at 824-0688.

Littleton will get buses

LITTLETON, N.H.—A proposal to provide bus service between Littleton and Lancaster has been chosen as a state demonstration project by the New Hampshire Department of Transportation. North Country Transportation in Berlin last fall received a grant to do a feasibility study on providing the service between the towns, which are 19 miles apart. The state will fund 80 percent of the project, up to $50,000, with North Country Transportation responsible for raising the remaining 20 percent. The service will run for one year as demonstration, to collect data to substantiate the need for an increase in federal funds for state-provided public transportation in rural areas. There will be seven round trips a day.

New ATV trail to open soon

LANCASTER, N.H.—A seven-and-one-half-mile-long ATV trail will open this summer in the Nash Stream State Forest. The 12-to-14-foot-wide trail will double as a snowmobile corridor in the winter. The trail project is a pilot program built in partnership with the state and the North Country ATV Club. The only access to the trail will be from the club's trailhead parking area, on Route 3. The trail's effect on the forest will be closely monitored during the first few years of operation.

TOPS seeks new members

BETHEL—TOPS (Taking Off Pounds Sensibly) is looking for new members. The weight control group meets every Wednesday at the Bethel Alliance Church. Weigh-in is 5:30 to 6 p.m., and the meeting from 6 to 6:45 p.m. Membership is $20 and weekly dues $2. For more information call 824-3288.

Oxford Garden Tour

PARIS—The McLaughlin Foundation, Garden & Horticultural Center and the Oxford Historical Society will co-sponsor the Oxford Garden Tour July 13. The tour will include 10 sites featuring gardens with lake views, a 1797 farm with both new and old gardens, gardens with heirloom plantings, gardens of raspberries, strawberries and blueberries and an orchard. Three historic buildings will also be open to tour, and the Thompson Lake Environmental Association will have an open house with a garden that is planted with materials best-suited for lakeside landscapes. At the end of the day, afternoon tea will be served at The Wolf Cove Inn on Tripp Lake. Advance tickets are available at the McLaughlin Foundation gift shop or by calling 743-8820, or on the day of the tour may be purchased at the Oxford Historical Society's headquarters at the Kay House, 73 Pleasant St., Oxford.

From the Bethel Police Log:

Wednesday, June 19

At 12:24 a.m. dispatch put out a be-on-the-lookout for a white GMC truck with Massachusetts plates, with two Afghan males. They reportedly had been overheard in Portsmouth, N.H., saying they were going to blow up a gas station.

At 12:30 p.m. the animal control officer issued a summons to Donna Martell, 30, of West Bethel for keeping a dangerous dog, in response to a complaint filed by a Bethel police officer.

Thursday, June 20

At 6 p.m. police received a report of dirt bikes operating on Paradise Road. The officer observed two subjects driving the bikes on the road. He told the subjects if another complaint was filed they would be subject to a summons. They said they would ride elsewhere.

Monday, June 23

At 11:45 p.m. police arrested Rusty Seames, 21, of Bethel on Route 26 on a criminal arrest warrant for failure to appear. After the arrest and prior to a search of his vehicle, Seames told the officer about a firearm. The officer located the weapon. Further investigation found he did not possess a valid concealed weapons permit, and was summonsed.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summons, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Greenwood

Laws regulating junkyards and automobile graveyards are mandated by rules adopted by the Department of Transportation, Title 30-A.

No person may establish, operate, or maintain an automobile graveyard, recycling business or junkyard without obtaining a permit from the Town Office.

Inhabitants with 3 or more unserviceable, discarded, worn-out or junked motor vehicles need to obtain a permit, subject to meeting the regulations enacted by the State of Maine.

Penalties for violation of the law are fines from $100 to $2,500 per day as required by Title 30-A§ 4452.

By this notice the municipal offices will begin enforcement of laws regarding junkyards.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
Henry Robertson celebrated his 80th birthday on June 22 with a family gathering at his home. Present were his daughter Victoria and grandson Douglass Lamarre of Brunswick, Merry Harkins and husband Jack of Brunswick, Jean Ramsey and husband Glenn of Scarborough, granddaughter Erika Kajioner and husband Richard of Lesley University, Cambridge, Mass., and his sister, Helen Cummings of Bethel. He had an early visit from Robert and Lorraine Chase of Danville, N.H. He also had a phone call to wish him a happy birthday from Mary Keoskie, a sister in Brunswick.

Rachel MacKay is recovering at Stephens Memorial after having hip surgery.
Don Ferraro of New Bedford, Mass., spent the weekend with Mary and Bud Paine. Linda Jackson of New Brunswick, Canada, was also a guest.
There was a Women's Retreat at the Keniston Camp at Songo Pond during the week of June 16. No kids, no dogs, cats, no men. Those attending included Ginny Keniston, Becky Shaw, Martha Bangs of Dresden, Rachel McKnight of Jericho, Vt., Jody Keniston of Norway. Eunice Powell underwent knee surgery on Tuesday at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.
Bud and Lois Leavitt have observed an eagle flying in and around their cottage on Songo Pond.
Helping Mary Rosberg celebrate a belated birthday at Maurice's in South Paris last Thursday were several members of the Shylyn's Early Risers group: Judy Barker, Gina Douglass, Lee Barth, Polly Davis, Rosabelle Tiff, and the honored guest. Unable to attend were Sylvia Clanton and Wendy Iseman.

Little "Joe" Rosberg, 2 1/2, of Tewksbury, Mass., is spending this week with his grandparents, Kent and Mary Rosberg.

Monday evening, Lee and Al Barth hosted a Down East lobster bake at their cottage on Lake Penesseewasee in Norway. Guests were the Cross Country Quilters of Bethel, spouses included. The complete meal was steamed in seaweed and included lobsters, clams, sweet corn, kielbasa, potatoes and eggs, done over an outdoor fire. An enjoyable social evening followed. Jerry Vincent was presented with a lighted birthday cake.

Congregational women met at Mother's for a going-away luncheon for Jeannie Taber of Egypt Mountain Road in Bethel. She and her husband are leaving for New York to be nearer their family. She was active in the Garden Club.

On Wednesday, the Congregational women helped Jean Bass celebrate her birthday with a luncheon at Mother's.

Lindley and Pauline Wieden attended a First Birthday Party for their great-grandson, Colby Miller, son of Lon and Lisa Miller of Madison, on Saturday, June 22. There were 40 present representing both sides of Colby's family. The Wiedens stayed overnight with their daughter, Sylvia, in Norridgewock. Their granddaughter, Adele McIntire of Maryland, was visiting, also. They returned to Bethel on Sunday.

Kate Nickerson Dumais, Livermore, daughter of George and Danna Nickerson, was named to the dean's list at the University of Southern Maine/LA Campus for the spring semester. She also recently learned that she had been awarded the Tessier Memorial Scholarship by the college. Kate is employed as assistant to the registrar at Central Maine Technical College in Auburn.

THANKS, PETER—Peter Young, a 29 1/2-year employee of Bethel, is retiring from his position as public works assistant foreman. He was honored last week with a retirement party given by fellow employees at the home of Town Manager Scott Cole.

June 14 from Charibo High School in Wood River Junction, R.I. He is the grandson of Ronald and Gloria Snyder of West Bethel and the son of Doug and Sue Standeven of Richmond, R.I. A party was held the following day in Derek's honor. Other relatives from the Bethel area were: Tammy and Keri Standeven; Opie Taylor; Brenda and Marshall Fleet; Lisa and Nate Buckman and Shylyn, Matt and Alex; Judy and Clay Gould, Krystal and Miranda; Louise and Willie Rice, Jillian and Jared; and Randy and Sandy Standeven of Andover.

Oxford Hills Duplicate Bridge had 8 1/2 tables playing at their June 21st club championship game. Winners north/south were: first, Bob and Sue Crane; second, Pat and Mike Quinn; third, Della Starbird and Eileen Potvin; and fourth, Pam and Errol Libby. The east/west winners were: first, Grace and Luke Merry; second, Howard and Virginia Cole; third, Wally Fricke and Elliott Levy; fourth, Bill Bowman and Eleanor Griffin.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester
The Hanover Town Office will be closed all day on July 4 and 5.

There will be an important meeting for Howard Pond campers at the Monroe home, 108 South Shore Road, on Saturday, July 6, at 10 a.m.

The Claudia Nardoni family from Virginia have arrived at Howard Pond for the summer.

Birthday greetings went to Louise Worcester on June 19. She is not telling anyone that she is 84 years in age, but as well preserved! as Louise is, no one would ever guess it. At a gathering in her honor, cake and ice cream were enjoyed. Those attending were Kay Worcester, Ashley Glover, Andrea Glover, Robert Brown, David Worcester, Dorina and Clem Worcester, Bill and Gail Worcester, Jenny Tirrell, Mike Worcester and Brad Worcester. Gail Worcester brought all the party goodies.

Dr. and Mrs. Bob Reiner from California have arrived at Howard Pond. They will be joined by their daughter, a student at the University of Maine.

D.A. Wilson has completed repair work on the Brown Road. The work consisted of cutting trees, ditching and placing cold patch and recycled pavement in the poorest places. Brown Road was once a portion of Route 2, and it has had very little attention since Route 2 was relocated to its present location 40 years ago. Included in that section is Schoolhouse Hill. That was known to truckers as a difficult place during winter storms. Also,

Ha good's Cabins were along that stretch of road.

Job Fortin recently put sealer on the ramp into the town office. Town officials have expressed appreciation for Bob's volunteer efforts.

This is the week that summer school starts at least in Lewiston. Apparently, some one forgot to tell the students. Of 12 students, three showed up for class. Perhaps the others will be there on Tuesday. They are only allowed three absences. It was nice only having three.

There seems to be a skunk hanging around nights. In the morning he leaves his scent in and around the garage. I have not seen him, only smelled him. Maybe that's why Tasha woke me so early in any case, being summer, she is happy to hang outside 24/7. I still bring her in at night. Today, as I was typing, she managed to get her chain tangled around the post in the garage.

As usual in the summer, I am experiencing computer problems. In the heat and mugginess, my computer goes down. It has been so every year since I got it. When the mug is gone, it is ok again. Annoying, but that is the way it is. I am saving every five minutes to avoid losing things. I save on disk so I can finish elsewhere, if necessary.

This past week, David and I agreed to go to a Rangeley Lake Resort presentation. They promised it was only an hour and we would get a $50 check for gas and one for food any place we wanted, plus a certificate for a two-day stay at a resort in Northern New England. Well we can stay at a Ramada in New York or Massachusetts or

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

I have come to the conclusion that being a woman isn't easy. In fact, I would go so far as to say that it is probably the hardest job in the world.

I don't mean to imply that women are superior to men because of all the drudge, hardship, pain and inequality that they successfully endure, but if that is the way anyone wants to take it, well, so be it.

There are those of you who are probably thinking "There she goes again with that feminist crap," but I'm really not a feminist by any stretch of the imagination. I thought about adopting a more feminist attitude once, but my husband wouldn't let me. In fact, I think I am the most submissive, servile, dominated woman that I know, but that's a subject for another column.

The issue here is my observation of how hard it is to be a woman as compared to being a man. Take something as basic as getting ready to go to a wedding or some other special occasion. For the man it's hop in the shower, shave, put on clean underwear, socks, shirt, pants, maybe a tie and possibly a suit jacket. Keep in mind now that the clothing was more than likely washed, ironed and put away by a woman. After the man is dressed he will probably run a comb through his hair and away he goes.

Now, for the woman just picking out what she is going to wear is a matter of great concern. She wants to wear something that will be both very attractive and flattering to her figure. Not all clothing fits equally for women. For men, pants, shirt, jacket; they all fit pretty much the same. Plus men don't have to accessorize. Women, once they know what they are going to wear must then come up with shoes and usually earrings and a necklace that will work. Women also have to find a pair of pantyhose that don't have runs or snags.

After her clothing is ready it's time for the shower which includes shampoo and shaving the legs and underarms. Though it is true that men have to shave too, in fact, for most men it is every day, but I just can't imagine them shaving their legs and armpits.

I digress, I know, sorry. Anyway, after the shower and dressing it's blow drying, styling and spraying the hair, applying make up, which will include eye-liner, eye shadow, mascara, foundation, blush and lipstick.

Everyone with me so far? Now, if the woman is lucky, she's ready to go, but she probably has a few details to tend to like making sure the evening meal is taken out of the freezer, shut the coffee pot off and if there are children involved just who do you think will be the one to make sure they are ready? Then, of course there is the matter of the wedding, anniversary or birthday gift which the lady of the house would have the responsibility of buying and wrapping.

Back to the children, how well do you think men would handle pregnancy? I know that is not really a fair question because a man will never have the opportunity to prove otherwise, but I never claimed to be fair. I do, however, think a man would have a hard time with nine months of discomfort, leg pains, lower back pain, waddling like a duck and frequent trips to the bathroom. I think they would have an even harder time with the many hours of labor pains, contractions and the actual delivery. They might be able to deal with it, but I doubt it because I don't think they would even make it past the first pelvic exam. One experience with their feet in stirrups and the up close and personal relationship with the doctor would probably lead to a great reduction in the population.

And then there is PMS. I suspect attitudes would be just a little bit different if once a month, every month for roughly 40 years men had to put up with bloating, water retention, low backache, cramps and that "not so fresh feeling." Just imagine women having to put up with them at that time of the month. I bet the jokes in the work place would be a little bit different; that is if the men could even make it to work.

For that matter, what about the raising of the children? Now boys, before you get really bent out of shape, if you aren't all ready, hear me out. Most men I know have been very good fathers. They have been attentive and loving to their children and share in the overall raising of them, but oh so many of them don't do diapers. They can cut a deer and eat lunch at the same time, but a loaded Pamper can bring them to their knees.

And who usually takes responsibility for bathing and putting the little tykes to bed, getting them ready for school in the morning and putting up their lunches? Who, primarily does the washing, cleaning and cooking? Who takes the little ones Trick or Treating, does most of the Christmas shopping and wrapping and usually put the Easter baskets together?

If you guys can honestly and without being struck down by lightning answer that it is you, then I'll eat my words in the middle of the Main Street. But, if what is true in most of the families that I know is true in the majority, I don't think I'll be choking on any verbiage this time around.

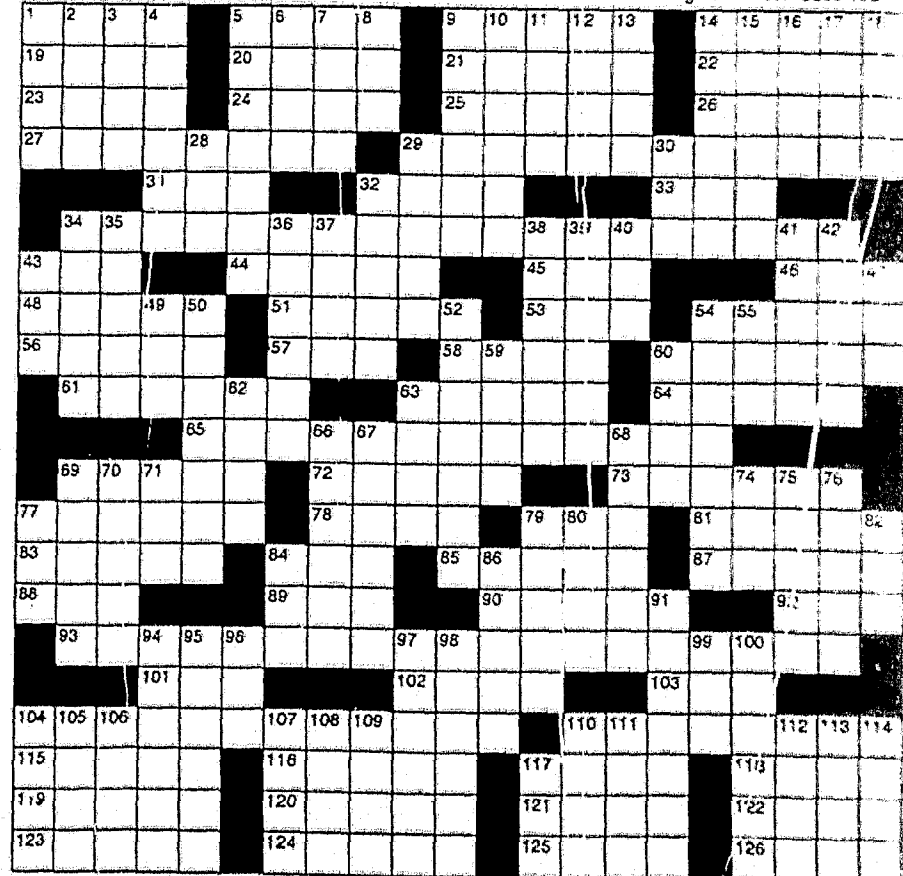

Please don't misunderstand me though, for I really do have a great deal of admiration for the male gender. They are faced with a lot of burdens I certainly wouldn't want to deal with — my column for one. And most of us women are quite dependent on them to solve our mechanical problems and to support us through all our ups and downs. I for one would find life without men very boring indeed not to mention a lot harder to find things to write about.

But the way I see it, I still believe that it is not all that easy to be a woman for if it was, men could do it and then where would we be?

Bangor. We did not get a check. After we send in paperwork, we can get $50 for either gas or food. We were there two hours. We had to leave because I was falling asleep. Beware these folks. They are less than honest. They also lied to us about some other things in their presentation. Also, the resort does not yet exist. You can buy a time-share and trust it will be built and completed before your time comes up. I believe they said, at one point, that ground hadn't even been broken.

Bought the final plants and seeds for my garden. I bought basil and pansies. They are still waiting to be planted. By the time you read this, however, they will be. In the meantime, they are looking pretty on the lawn. I also planted some sunflower seeds in the greenhouse, and they are coming up. I hope to plant Wednesday or Thursday after work. Wish me luck.

David Fleet has been by and delivered all of my wood — five and one-half cords. Now we have to stack it. David is thinking party. He knows I am not yet able to stack much. Maybe I'll surprise him and gain back my strength soon. That would be nice. If not, you may be called about a stacking party.

On our morning walks, we have seen moose tracks again. I have not seen the moose, or the turkeys. Julie tells me there is a pair of turkeys with a brood of young ones. I will look for them. Anyone else seen them?

This Thursday, the 27th, is the Bethel Area Poets Society June reading. All are welcome. It is at the Black Bear B&B on Sunday River Road in Newry, just past the Covered Bridge. For more information call 824-3427 or 674-2511.

That's all for this week. Have a good week and enjoy the sun now that it is back.

Debbie Farewell Eldredge of Unity is laid up with a crushed vertebra in her back from osteoporosis. It will be eight weeks before she will be allowed up. If anyone wants to write to Debbie, her address is: P.O. Box 125, Unity, ME 04988.

Kassandra Haines and AJ Hebert were on the honors list for the final quarter at Crescent Park School.

Paul Kimball now works for Bob Chadbourne in the woods.

Gertrude Hinkley, Charlene Haines and Ed Currier are now out of work since Bethel Furniture Stock closed its doors. A nice little company it was, too.

A little late, but congratulations to all the high school graduates.

The Alder River Grange supper schedule, after corrections and changes again: July 27, cold cuts, baked beans and casseroles; Aug. 17, Chicken BBQ and Yard Sale; Sept. 14, chicken pot pie; Oct. 19, Harvest Supper; Nov. 9, Turkey Supper with all the trimmings.

Nina Mollicone now has an opossum at her place. She saw it in her garden last week.

Have a nice week. God Bless America.

Father's Day ...
"While kneeling down to Heaven's eternal King, the saint, the father and husband pray."

I was wondering what would come next at my bird feeders besides a couple of chipmunks. Well, the ir cousins, the squirrels, showed up. I am supposed to be feeding the birds, not animals. But I love to watch them. No mouse, please. There was a snake on the porch Tuesday morning at about 10 a.m. What next?

Happy birthday to Sylvia Harrington. "Hope is a periscope which enables us to see over our present problems to future possibilities."

Andover

by Joan Stinson Carney

For the first time in the history of my writing this column I really don't have any news. I'm sure that there is lots out there, but I just got back from a long weekend in Boston and so I haven't heard any. Soooooo, I'll just make some up. Okay?

Rumor has it that Becky, Jen and Darlene make a mean breakfast at the Andover General Store; Agnes has the job of banker for the crew — don't ask. I know for a fact the new Ice Cream Parlor at Addie's Place makes a great hot fudge sundae. Just ask my mother, the diabetic, about that; and Mills Market seems to be the place where you can get great coffee and good conversation almost anytime.

The Andover Public Library is getting ready for a new facelift, and sometime in July those snakes are returning to visit. Call Janet at 392-4841 to get more information on the children's program for this summer. Last year's was a great success, in spite of the real live snakes.

I had a wonderful time in Boston. My son, Tom, and his wife, Sue, came up from Delaware and we looked at wedding pictures taken at "The Wedding from Hell." I got to choose the ones I liked. My son, Brian, won at Scrabble. I have it on good authority from Tom that Brian must of cheated. I, of course, hit the bookstores in Harvard Square and had a wonderful Italian dinner at a place called Artichokes in Malden.

Birthday celebrants for the following week include: Dan O'Hallaron, Dick Bodemer and Ron Adams on the 29th; Fred Allen and Evan Fessenden on July 1st; Pam Morgan on the 2nd; Barbara Warner and Joshua Tibbetts on the 3rd; Jane Reed, Jerry Savitz, Cindy Simmons, and Glendon Palmer Sr.

on the 4th. Carolyn and Dick Merrill have an anniversary on the 30th, and Sandra and Mike Clement have one on July 2nd.

The following note was received by The Citizen from Marilyn White: "On June 22, during the night someone took seven of my Hybrid T Roses. They were all planted in big black pots. A reward is being offered. If anyone knows anything, please contact the Sheriff's Office at (800) 733-1421."

The word for the week is "zebu." Look it up. See 'ya.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

The beautiful summer weather of last week was interrupted on Sunday evening by a violent thunderstorm. Just as we were giving praise to the "Celestial Weatherman," a very bright flash followed by a loud burst of thunder occurred. We did a fast tree and boat assessment and found nothing amiss. After the storm, Walter Stanczyk, who lives across the street from us, reported the lightning bolt hit two of his tall trees, splitting a pine down the center and disseminating foot-long splinters from a nearby spruce. Liz vacated the doorway, where she had been standing, at "Warp" speed. There is nothing like a lovely "clearing shower" in summer.

The lupine is blooming in a splendid manner. It was a long wait for the beautiful lavender, pink and purple spikes. Buster and Ginny Williamson have a "secret garden" which extends for at least a half a mile into the deep woods of Upton. About ten years ago they scattered lupine seeds in an old logging yard. A few years passed with a modest show of blossoms. About three years ago Mother Nature went wild. The area exploded with multicolored lupine.

There are many beautiful patches of lupines in Upton. The East "B" Hill patch was planted by Gladys Angevine a long time ago. The Barnes Road display was planted by Mrs. Jacobs. Elsie Fuller strewed seeds along Route 26. The flowers thrived but subjected Elsie to great frustration. Passing tourists not only stopped to admire, them, but dug them up for their own gardens. Mary LeComte and Ginny Williamson planted lupine in front of Jim Georges Alpine Lodge. This is now the residence of Lonnie LaTourneau. That lupine is now thriving in the ditch across from the cemetery, which has always had its own large lupine garden. I do not know who planted them in the cemetery. At the Gagnon farm, the lupine, planted by Connie Gagnon, along the road, are thriving and beautiful. Al would not let her plant them in the fields because they are toxic to sheep. Mabel Durkee decorated many areas at the bottom of Mill Road with lupine. Jen and Paul Casey reclaimed the land in front of the Winter House by planting grass. The lupine won out and the ground across from my house is wild with color. Back Street also has its lupine gardens. I have no idea who strewed the seeds up there. Margaret Mitchell, Arline Bernier and Peggy Dapolito must have had something to do with it. Joy Yarnell has a great field of them. Mary LeComte planted her lower field with lupine in the 1960s. She would be proud to see how many cars stop to allow a tourist to photograph them. Anyway the "lupine are leaping" in Upton and we all love them.

We have a lady turkey perambulating on Mill Road. There is also a resident fox prowling about. He may have Thanksgiving dinner early this year.

Dave Tucker and friend visited camp "2" over the weekend. Dave was recently honored as "EMT of the year" in Dover, Mass. He has worked diligently in the medical field and receives the Upton "Atta Boy" award from us.

Tara Mackenzie Murray visited the Nelsons this weekend.

Diane Williamson and grandson, Cameron, took their first dip of the year in the river. It was very cold.

Three baby groundhogs were seen scouting gardens on Mill Road. Lunch probably followed.

Last week, the Ladies Aid had a full "Pagoda." Elsie LeComte was a "no-show." She will be shunned at the next gathering.

Jim Kenney and Gene Wixom drove their four-wheelers through Parmachenee country on Sunday.

Liz Stanczyk, Sandy Wixom, Evelyn Kenney, Ann Dawson and yours truly took a Maine Line Bus trip to Boston to attend "River Dance." Rumor has it that they have enrolled in a Celtic dance class and will soon be giving an exhibition of their talent.

Our sympathy is extended to Maggie "Magalloway" Casey who caught her lovely plumed golden retriever's tail in the screen door. She required surgery to repair the offending part. It really took the wig-wag right out of her caudal extremity.

Mrs. Turkey is the "Bird of the Week." If the fox gets her before Wednesday, forget that I mentioned it and pick a different one.

WE'RE PLEASED TO SUPPORT A HOSPITAL WITH THE RIGHT PRIORITIES.

Like all members of the MaineHealth family, Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway believes in quality local care. So when the hospital launched its Campaign for Exceptional Care, MaineHealth wanted to help.

We pledged one million dollars to their campaign.

The money will go toward a new emergency services department, improved surgical and imaging facilities, and continuing local health and outreach programs.

For the well-being of the community, it's money well spent.

day services are Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. Each Friday from 6 to 8 p.m. is Family Fun Night at the church. Come with your family and join the fun, shoot baskets, play volleyball or ping-pong, play board games, etc. On June 30, missionaries Dave and Ruth Brendle will be at the church.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will go on the Songo Queen on July 11. The Songo Queen sails at 9:30 a.m., so you have to be there before then. There will be no other meeting in July, just the boat ride.

Franklin Grange 124 met on Monday, June 17, for CWA night with 26 present. A 6 p.m. supper was served before the meeting. Officers were: master, Peggy Blake; overseer, Olive Risko; lecturer, Bertha Benoit DeHaas; steward, Ralph Hoyt; assistant steward, Russell Yates; lady assistant steward, Mary Hoover; chaplain, Anna Swan; treasurer, Nina Grover; secretary, Laura Hutchins; Ceres, Connie Tutlis; Flora, Lucille Robbins; G.K., Jackie Stevens; pianist, Dot Canwell; C.W.A., Elsie Haynes and Alice Hoyt. Eight C.W.A. past and present officers were present. The program went as follows: opening thought by Bertha DeHaas; opening song, "Amazing Grace" by all; clogging by Jodey Goding and troop; vocal music by Jewel Clark; spinning demonstration by Althea Stevens, she showed different kinds of fur or wool she spins to yarn and some things she had made from it; accordion solo by Laura Hutchins accompanied by Dot Canwell and Richard Felt; monologue, "When I Grow Old and Live With My Kids," by Lucille Robbins; Dot Canwell whistled; closing song, "God Bless America"; closing thought by Bertha DeHaas. The next meeting is July 1.

The Woodstock Extension met at Hathaway's Hideaway, on Wednesday, to plan next year's meetings.

Kenneth Hoyt attended an open house at Edgcomb Eddy School last Wednesday with Joseph and Maggie Hoyt.

James Hoyt attended the sixth-grade graduation at Edgcomb Eddy on Tuesday. Joseph was in this class. It will be the last class to graduate from the school, as they are building a new one.

The Historical Society thanks Annella Burnham for setting up the urn in front of the historical museum. Curator Larry Billings supplied the geraniums. The society gives all-important values and a sense of worth. Lend it your support. That is so vital. Curator Larry got himself a book on Marilyn Monroe. It is good to have, as she was an icon of the 20th Century. The society has a few things on film stars and videos of a couple movies the curator has given. Annella Burnham hosted a luncheon for supporters of the society at the museum on June 15. About 10 people attended. Elena Noyes helped watch the museum recently. Barbara Hathaway and Kathleen Bean watched the society museum recently. Lilacs from Mary Billings brightened the room. Curator Larry Billings visited for a while. He loaned a video to Annella Burnham of an old movie. It starred Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper. He often supplies the fresh flowers for the museum. The society encourages you to visit antique shops and yard sales this summer to find treasures of your own.

We're sure having a lot of rain lately. It seems we just get lawns mowed and it is time to start mowing again. Grass grows so fast.

Dave, Debbie and Becky have been here from Pennsylvania. They went up to Winnepesaukee and they visited the DiArenzo family on Monday.

Eleanor and Milton Inman have been up to Nesowadenhunk fishing this past week. They were down to see Colista Morgan before they left. Thursday is Leonas and Fay Holt's 60th wedding anniversary. Congratulations. Their daughter, Ann, took them to North Land in Berlin for dinner. How nice of her. She is very thoughtful. Ann spent some time with Colista Morgan. They sat out on the porch and had a joyful time. Saturday, Ann and Brad Payne had a cookout for his family for Father's Day with Beth and Sarah and family, and Brad's grandchildren, also his mother, Cora. It was not a very good day but a good time was had. Robert and daughter, Jeannette from Windsor, David from Norway and Ann all had dinner with their folks on Sunday.

Carl Curtis was home over the weekend; he came up and had coffee with me Sunday morning.

Carl Curtis' family was home for Father's Day, except Tim, but he called.

Fred, Albert Jr. and sons, Albert and William, called on me this week.

Donna Waitko and Irene Heikkinen from Turner visited me on Tuesday.

They've started working on the Greenwood Road putting in culverts. Hope they have better weather than they have been having.

Aren't the flower gardens getting pretty now? Albert picked a nice bouquet of mixed flowers along with some wild ones for his dad. They are very nice.

That's about all until next week. Have a good one.

West Paris

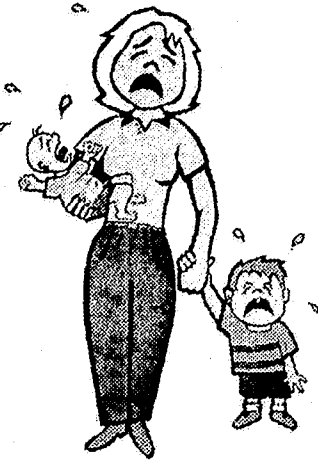

by Bertha DeHaas
Well folks — now that it is summer, we had our "Spring Flood" last week. The good old Androscoggin River rushed and foamed its way down through West Paris Village and down through Snow's Falls on Route 26. Makes for interesting photos.

Monday night we held CWA night preceded by a 6 p.m. supper at Franklin Grange 124. We were royally entertained by Jodey Goding and her cloggers, yodeling, and singing Jewel Clark and granddaughter Savannah, "Wool Magic" spinning by Althea Stevens, accompanied by Richard Felt on harmonica and Dot Canwell on piano, whistling by Dot Canwell accompanied by Richard Felt and monologue, "When I Grow Too Old and Live With My Kids," by Lucille Robbins. A grand time was had by all.

Nadja Bolio of Woodstock has published a book titled, "Enjoying Motherhood Without Pushing the Panic Button." The mother of seven, Bolio uses humorous anecdotes from her own experience to illustrate how she coped with, and enjoyed, bringing up her children. The book is available at Maine Line Products in Bethel and Locke Mills.

dion solo by Laura Hutchins accompanied by Richard Felt on harmonica and Dot Canwell on piano, whistling by Dot Canwell accompanied by Richard Felt and monologue, "When I Grow Too Old and Live With My Kids," by Lucille Robbins. A grand time was had by all.

On Sunday, Russell Lane, a former pastor of the Mission Congregational Church of West Paris, was its guest minister. It was good to see him, his wife Marta and children, Marissa and Tommy. My how the children have grown.

See you all next week.
P.S. Hope the person who hit my van and ran last Sunday has a twinge of conscience and contacts me so the van can be fixed.

West Paris Historical Society met on Monday night for a potluck supper and meeting. There were 16 members present. It was voted to have a yard sale on Aug. 3. Donations are accepted and appreciated. The telephone numbers to call for pick-up are 674-2507 or 674-2175. The next meeting will be held at the Glines/Ring cottage on North Pond on July 15, with whatever anyone wants to eat.

Joe and Peg Perham have returned from their fishing in Nesowadenhunk. They say that the fishing was very good.

SPC Vernon Inman returned to Germany on the 17th after having a short visit.

Of North Paris interest — Harlan and Faye Abbott toured New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia last week.

The Soap Box Derby, yesterday, was held under a cloudy sky, with a good chance of a cloud burst at any minute. It didn't deter the racers, and the order of finish follows. In the seven-to-11 age group, it was: first, Cody Wilson; second, Mike Church; third, Samantha Hill. In the 12-to-17 age group: first was Ron Davis; second, Elaina Sessions; third, Paul Harnden. The next race date was not decided at this time.

The Parisians will be playing at the Oxford Legion Hall on July 2 at 7 p.m.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers. Sorry I missed you last week. I was in Seaford, Va., visiting daughter Cheryl and family and attended the graduation of grandson Joshua Bernard from York High School, which took place at the Hampton University Convocation Center on June 13. There were 168 graduates.

What a busy week, which started with grandson Matthew Nelson's graduation on Sunday from Fryeburg Academy, which was real nice. He was one of the speakers. Then on Tuesday, Phyllis Adams and myself were ballot clerks for the primary election at the Stoneham Community Room. Nice Midge Salvio went out and got us all a pizza for lunch. Thanks, Midge. You helped make our day. There were some nice new patriotic curtains at the voting booth, which Mary Fox had made and hung. Rob Cameron stopped in to see us during the day.

It was a light turnout of voters but we really expected that. We do appreciate seeing those who did stop in to vote and to chat. I believe the count was 32. We hope to see more in the fall.

The next day, Kitty and Matthew Nelson took me to the Portland Jetport for a flight to Virginia.

Granddaughter Jenna met me in Philadelphia and was a big help when I got to Norfolk, Va. She wheeled me right around, as it was way too far to walk from one point to another.

On Friday, June 14, I did something I never did before. (Here I go again with another first.) I had a manicure and a pedicure as a gift from Cheryl. This was at Victoria's Day Spa in Yorktown, Va. I'm telling you, it was just great. Maybe my dog is pampered at home, but this day I was pampered. What a nice job those girls do. Thanks, Carol, Deirdra and Linda. I felt like a new person. They were very busy there but gave a lot of TLC.

Phyllis Adams of town was treated to a surprise birthday party recently at Brenda Wiley's camp at Lake Keewaydin. Nancy Vaillencourt was here from Florida and attended. There were about 40 people there to help Phyllis celebrate. A good time was enjoyed by all.

While talking with Midge Salvio Tuesday, she told me that she had two unexpected visitors. Two bears were in her yard and got up and walked across her deck. They had a good lunch of bird feed.

The Family Banquet on June 7 at Camp Susan Curtis was a huge success again this year. This is a big help to provide scholarships for all kids interested to attend camp this summer. Special thanks to Joyce Sweatt and her helpers for a wonderful meal and to Sharon McAllister for organizing the serving of the meal and for making the floral centerpieces, which were raffled off as door prizes, and to Loretta Andrews for the crocheted angel and cross pins, which were given to all who attended. There were over 100 people there that were served in the huge dining hall.

Callers of Dick and Marilyn Jones recently were Kay and George Gustin of Wales and Wilma Roberts of Freehold, N.J. They all went out to supper at the Country Way.

Sunday worship services are being held in Stoneham Church through June. July services will be held at North Waterford and then return to Stoneham until the end of October.

North Waterford Church Public Supper Schedule is: Tuesday, July 2, Tuesday, July 16, Tuesday, July 30, Tuesday, August 13 and Tuesday, August 27. I will give you Stoneham and Hunts Corner (Albany) next week.

Yesterday, June 19, Eunice Grover from Lovell and Linda and Roger Brown of Fryeburg went to Norway Rehab and Living Center and helped Al Yemma celebrate his birthday with cake and ice cream and a nice social visit. Al's son and wife from Haverhill, Mass., also visited him and all wished him a happy birthday. Happy 95th, Al, and many more.

Albany

by Dana & Sheila Dyke
Greetings from Albany Township. We were hoping for some sunshine this week, but the forecast says that most of the week will be warm and soggy. We hope that everyone's gardens are surviving this drought.

Last Friday was Holle's first sewing class. We all had a lot of fun and made some doll pants. Hey, it's a start. The classes are on Wednesdays from now on, as are the kids' rehearsals.

On Sunday, the congregation enjoyed music from Rudy and Joann Royer and Don Chase. They played piano, violin and guitar, and played several favorite hymns. The music was wonderful, and we also want to thank Edna York for always providing us with wonderful music. The congregation has grown a bit, and we are hoping that it will continue to grow. There are plans to have Diane Muise sing at the church sometime in August. We will, of course, let you know all of the details shortly.

Thursday, as usual, is Bible Study, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at Holle and Fernand Corriveau's home. We are still in the Book of Genesis, and will probably be there for a while. We hope that the circle around the table will continue to grow. There have been quite a few lively discussions, as you can imagine, studying Genesis.

This Friday is hymn sing over at the Pinhook Meetinghouse in Woodstock. This begins at 7 p.m., and usually lasts about an hour. Afterward is fellowship and goodies. We were amazed at how much the attendance has grown during the summer.

Saturday is the Yard Sale at the church, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Actually, the sale is in the community hall, as is the Youth Group's bottle drive and a bake sale.

The Township of Albany is likewise holding its Yard Sale at the town hall beginning at 9 a.m.

We understand from Jeff Barton that the strawberries are in (well, at this writing, they were to be in on this past Tuesday). The Bartons always seem to have such wonderful strawberries, and it's a lot of fun to go out and pick them. Of course, then there's the job of cleaning them and canning them. But, they certainly are wonderful during the winter months.

God Bless and keep you.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

We hope to see you tonight (Thursday) at the Business After Hours from 5 to 7 p.m. at Sunday River Ski Resort. We will be meeting at the South Ridge Welcome Center. Refreshments supplied by Legends Restaurant will be available.

Everything is shaping up for our summer events. We sure hope you are all planning to attend the 13th annual Bethel Art Fair on Saturday, July 6. A full day of art, music and activities is planned, starting at 9 a.m. and finishing up at 4 p.m. Plan to bring your lawn chair and enjoy the live music on the gazebo between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Women of Note, a wonderful A-Cappella Chorus from York and Rob Robbins, piano player from the Bethel Inn, will be alternating and filling the air with their great music. The Mahosuc Mountains School will be offering children's activities, and Zachary Field, juggler and balloon artist, will be wandering on the common from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m., entertaining all with his talents. This great event is being made possible through the generosity of our Major Sponsor: Coca-Cola Bottling of Northern New England; our Premier Sponsors: Bethel Inn and Country Club, Maine Press, Northeast Bank, W.J. Wheeler & Co., Inc., Portland Natural Gas Transmission Systems; our Supporting Sponsors: The Good Food Store and River View Resort and Friend of the Art Fair, Bethel Animal Hospital.

In last week's article, we mentioned all the individuals and businesses who contributed to the success of the 2nd annual Androscoggin River Fishing Festival. One individual who added so much to the event was our professional fly-tie, and his name is Doug Mawhinney, from Mexico. Thank you to Doug for doing such a great job.

From the Bethel Rotary Club

This week, we heard from Bonnie Largess and Jennifer Annis from the March of Dimes. Jennifer and Bonnie shared a little about the Maine March of Dimes program and celebrated the recent Walk-

America in Bethel.

Saving babies' lives is the passion of March of Dimes which focuses on the leading killer of America's babies of birth defects and the second leading cause of infant mortality of prematurity/low birth-weight.

Bonnie Largess recapped the Bethel's sixth WalkAmerica where the monetary goal was far surpassed. Jennifer Annis presented recognitions to several participants and organizers for the WalkAmerica in Bethel. Jillian Kimball was the top youth walker and Mo Ginter was the top adult walker. Bethel volunteer organizers attending Rotary meeting were acknowledged including Bonnie, Mo, and Marjorie Osgood. Many teams were recognized as well, including the Breaux's team, Shylyn's team, Healthy Hops, and all the school teams.

Congratulations to Susan Harvey, Bethel Rotary's 2002 Vocational Service Award recipient. Susan works for Steve and Peggy Wight at the Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Center.

The Vocational Service Award is presented annually to a deserving non-Rotarian individual who exemplifies the ideals of making valuable contributions to better society through daily activities in a business or profession.

President Bob Laux presented Vicki Rackliffe with a donation to Mahosuc Arts Council toward the Mollycoddett Day children's entertainment fund. This year's Mollycoddett Day theme is America the Beautiful.

Congratulations to traditional scholar recipient Caitlin Gallagher, who has completed her first year at Guilford College, N.H. And congratulations to Brandy Cordwell, recipient of a non-traditional scholarship, who is pursuing a vocation in nursing.

Upcoming programs: SAD44 Elementary School Principal, Polio Eradication Campaign, CMT Maine Career Advantage, and our annual District Governor visit.

The Rotary Club of Bethel meets Tuesdays at 7:30 a.m. at The Bethel Inn and Country Club.

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The 10th annual Fourth of July Community Picnic will be held on the grounds of the Dr. Moses Mason House, 14 Broad Street, Bethel, weather permitting, beginning at noon. Those wishing to attend should bring a picnic lunch and a comfortable folding chair to enjoy a concert by the Portland Brass Quintet. If the day is rainy, the concert will be held at the historic Middle Intervale Meeting House (1816) on Intervale Road (about four miles below the village).

A few remarks on the occasion (the 226th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence) will be made by the Hon. Margaret Joy Tibbetts of Bethel, former U.S. Ambassador to Norway. This event carries on a tradition begun by Dr. Moses Mason in the 1850s when his grove behind his house was used for music and Fourth of July speeches.

Sponsors of this year's concert include the following: Bill and Debbie Andrews, Newry; Lee and Al Barth, Bethel; Bessie Bennett, Bethel; Florine Bowden, Albany Township; Mike Brown, Bethel; Denny and Rosemary Bunn, Tallahassee, Fla.; Bob and Nancy Chadbourne, Bethel; Dorothy Christie and Dr. Donald Christie, Gray; Burton and Jane deFrees, Rumford; Josiah and Joanna Drummond, Bethel; Walter and Carol Hatch, Bethel; John and Fumi Head, Bethel; Richard and Lorrie Hoeh, Albany Township; Rudi and Barbara Honkala, Bethel; Stan Howe, Bethel; Arlan and Ellie Jodrey, Bethel; Marna McGinnis, Bethel; Tom Mitchell, Culver City, Calif.; Mundt-Allen Post 81 American Legion, Bethel; Robert and Bethia Newmarker, Tolland, Conn.; George and Danna Nickerson, Bethel; Carol Nielsen, Bethel; Jack and Lucy Nordahl, Bethel; James and Lucia Owen, Stoneham; Eric and Lucia Schwarz, Bethel; Henry and Pat Stewart, Bryant Pond; Margaret Joy Tibbetts, Bethel; Doris and Richard Valentine, Bethel; Dean and Priscella Walker, Bethel; Peggy and Steve Wight, Newry; Edna York, Bethel. Much appreciation is expressed to all of the above for their role in making this concert possible.

Over a thousand members strong, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. For over thirty-five years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. Since 1974, the society has operated from its Broad Street headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House, a period house museum and research library. In 1999, it opened the O'Neil Robinson House (next door) to the public for an expanded exhibit program, museum shop space, and administrative offices. Through the years, the society's achievements have been recognized by a number of state and national organizations.

From the Bethel Water District

We would like to thank all of you that attended the meeting Monday evening, June 10. We were pleased that everyone was peaceable and courteous. If you had any doubts to the safety of the water, we hope that you have been reassured.

Lucien and Donnie are professionals. Together they make a great team. In August, Donnie will have worked here for 25 years — a few of them as the superintendent. The water quality was always good — consistently passing the lab tests and with no "incidents" — while Donnie was in charge. Lucien is new to the water industry but has significant experience in other similar fields. The state requires that all operators are licensed and earn continuing education credits before license renewal.

week before last causing a short shutdown due to turbidity (suspended particles in the water). The rain washes the dust that has settled from "out there" off the trees, rocks, and fallen leaves. The forest looks clean, but by doing that much laundry at one time, Mother Nature has put an excessive amount of wash water into the waterways causing a higher turbidity.

Our customers do not need to be concerned. Two safety checks shut the water supply off to the town long before the turbidity reaches the maximum level allowed by the State Department of Health. Also, if the chlorine, which disinfects the water, gets too low, the water production will be shut down and the district personnel are notified by phone. During these shutdowns, we run off our 500,000 gallon reserve. The entire brook bypasses our intake until it is clear again.

Meters are being read at this time and billing will go out the first of July. We appreciate all who have returned the card with their reading.

From the Oxford County Republicans

William Hain of the State Ethics Commission was the featured speaker of the June meeting of the Oxford County Republican Committee held at the Stoneham Congregational Church. Mr. Hain presented an overview of the "Clean-Election Law" and provided a number of examples as to how it affects campaigns and contributions.

After a delicious meal provided by the Daughters of Union Veterans, chairman Paul Billings recognized state Senate candidate Rob Cameron of Rumford and House candidates Dana Knightly of Paris, Diane Mitchell of Rumford, and Sawin Millett of Waterford. Congressional candidate Stavros Mendros of Lewiston was also present as well. Legislators present were Sen. Norman Ferguson (R-Hanover), Rep. Tom Winsor (R-Norway), and Rep. Ted Heidrich (R-Oxford). A special award was made to Rep. Winsor by the Daughters of Union Veterans. Sawin Millett of Susan Collins' Lewiston office spoke on the Senator's behalf of legislation that she is currently working on as well as providing an overview of her latest activities on behalf of her constituents. Plans for the forthcoming general election were discussed.

The next meeting was announced as the annual picnic at Al Barth's in Bethel at his Grover Hill Road home on July 9 beginning at 5:30 p.m. The Bethel Town Committee will host the picnic and the speaker will be National Republican Committeewoman Jan Staples.

From the Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge

Planning for the fifth annual Umbagog Wildlife Festival has begun and we are looking for crafters with wildlife-oriented crafts. The festival will take place in downtown Errol on Saturday, Aug. 3, with vendor booths open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Last year, the weather was beautiful and over 800 people attended the festival. Another exciting day is being planned for this year. There will be bird walks, pontoon boat rides and canoe trips all guided by the Friends of Umbagog, as well as a barbecue, a Let's Go Fishing program, a live wildlife presentation from the Squam Lake Environmental Center, and vendor booths with wildlife-oriented crafts.

The festival is a wonderful way to celebrate the diversity and abundance of wildlife in the Umbagog area, and it would not be complete without beautiful displays of wildlife crafts. If you have any wildlife-oriented craft items and you would be interested in a vendor booth at the festival, please contact Jen Pruim at Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge at (603) 482-3415. The cost for a 10 x 10 booth is $15.

Do you know history of the Lake Umbagog area? Are you an expert at tying flies? Can you identify different wildflowers? In addition to the beautiful display of crafts, this year we are looking for anyone who has a special wildlife-oriented skill or hobby to share with the community. If you are interested, please call Jen Pruim at the above number.

Most women give their all to the people around them. If only they were half as good to themselves.

As a woman, you do so much for others, it's time you did more for yourself. You deserve the care of a women's health specialist at every stage of your life. Western Maine Obstetrics & Gynecology has the training, technology — and the time — to focus on issues specific to you. With yearly exams, menopause counseling, help for bladder problems, colposcopy, and comprehensive surgery, we cover the range of women's health issues. And, like you, we're always available with compassionate help and friendly advice. Call to make an appointment right here in Oxford County.

Forestdale wraps up year

Pupils attending the "Little Red schoolhouse in Perkins Valley" just completed another year of studies. Three pupils graduated from kindergarten: Kristopher Berry, Logan Bergquist and McKayla Stahl. Christopher Christiansen graduated from the eighth grade. Closing ceremonies were held Tuesday, June 3, at the Woodstock Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Guest speaker was Dr. Edward Christiansen from Loma Linda, Calif. Students sang "Mr. Jesus" and the advanced chimes group played "Holy, Holy, Holy" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." Awarded top citizenship were Zachery Wilday, Amber Gadoway and Savannah Wilson. The top scholars for the year were Alyssa Gadoway, Amber Gadoway, Billy Snow and Hannah Vail.

Among recognition given at an awards ceremony the previous week included third-place, Oxford County Spelling Bee, Billy Snow; State Geography Bee contestant, Chris Christiansen; Presidential's Award for Educational Excellence, Amber Gadoway, Billy Snow, Emily Vail and Hannah Vail; President's Award for Educational Achievement, Lyndon Mason and Savannah Wilson; President's Challenge of National Physical Fitness, Kristopher Berry, Alex Gaudreau, Taisto Tetreault, Alyssa Gadoway, Derick Poland, Katrina Tetreault, Amber Gadoway, Camrin Poland, Lyndon Mason, Bradley Sica, Billy Snow, Emily Vail, Hannah Vail, Cody Ballweber and Savannah Wilson; Literacy Award, Billy Snow (grade six) read 101 books for the year and McKayla Stahl read 232 books (kindergarten); Piano Student of the Year, Hannah Vail; Perfect Attendance, Alex Gaudreau, Dillon Ballweber, Cody Ballweber and Billy Snow. Other awards, such as band, Book It! All Star Readers, the Principal's Award and Citizenship were also given.

Those making the high honor roll for the entire year included: Logan Bergquist, Alyssa Gadoway, Mercedes McLean, Emily Gaudreau, Amber Gadoway, Billy Snow, Emily Vail and Hannah Vail. The honor roll was awarded to Zachery Wilday, Alex Gaudreau, Dillon Ballweber, Bryce Mason, James Mason, Aaron Vial, Lyndon Mason, Bradley Sica, Chris Christiansen and Savannah Wilson.

Among this year's commemorative events were a four-day Outdoor School at Lake Webb; a Thanksgiving banquet for grandparents; an ongoing adopt-a-grandparent at Ledgeview Living Center; raising money, purchasing and delivering Christmas gifts for four needy families; grade six through nine French class; choral, band, guitar, hand chime and speech presentations at Harrison and Woodstock; participation in multi-statewide art and music clinics and a widely attended Vocational Food Fair.

The school yearbook was dedicated to Maude Alice Hadley. Mrs. Hadley is an alumnus, a member of the school board and has been a very dedicated supporter of the school for many years.

Obituaries

WILLIAM M. THROOP, JR.

William M. ("Pete") Throop, Jr., 77, a prominent New York and Connecticut attorney and a World War II combat veteran in the Pacific, died of cancer on June 20, 2002 at his home in New Canaan, Conn.

Mr. Throop began practicing law in New York City in 1950 as an associate in the law firm of Davidson, Dawson & Clark. He remained with that firm for his entire career, becoming the senior partner in 1977. He retired as senior partner in 2000, but remained active as counsel to the firm until his death. He specialized in the law relating to trusts and estates and charitable institutions and served as a trustee of numerous family trusts for clients and as the senior trustee of The Betterment Fund, created by the will of William Bingham II to support charities in Maine. Active in Bar Association matters, he was on the Trusts, Estates and Surrogates Court Committee and the Professional and Judicial Ethics Committee of The Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Mr. Throop became a charter member of the Gould Academy Board of Trustees in 1961 and served as its president from 1969 until 1979. He then served six years as the Member at Large of the Executive Committee, and in 1989 became a Trustee Emeritus.

He was prominent in local political and cultural affairs in New Canaan. He was chairman of the New Canaan Town Council and president of the New Canaan Library.

His undergraduate years at Princeton University were interrupted by service in the army in World War II. As an infantry scout, he won a Purple Heart for wounds he suffered in combat on Okinawa. Following his hospitalization and his discharge from the army, he returned to graduate from Princeton in 1947, as a member of the Class of 1945. He received his law degree from Yale Law School in 1950.

Mr. Throop actively supported historical preservation in New York State, particularly near his family farm in North Hebron. He followed in the sheep raising tradition of his mother, who raised Cheviots in the 1940s. He changed the breed to Hampshires and actively worked his herd. An antique car and tractor enthusiast, he lovingly restored and preserved a 1940 Cub Cadet tractor, which he used on the farm.

Survivors include his wife, Ann, of New Canaan; four sons, William of North Hebron, N.Y., Mitchell of Greenwich, N.Y., Peter of Keene, N.H., and Thomas of Rowayton, Conn.; and two granddaughters, Laura and Susannah.

Those who desire may contribute to a scholarship fund in Mr. Throop's memory at Gould Academy, P.O. Box 860, Bethel, ME 04217.

JOSEPH O. ALLEN

Joseph Owen Allen, 40, of Old Orchard Beach, died unexpectedly on June 24, 2002.

He was born in Norway, on May 28, 1962, to Susan and Owen Bonney. He graduated from Buckfield High School in 1980. He served in the U.S. Army from 1980 to 1984 being stationed in Colorado and Germany.

He worked for many years in the Portland area as a professional painter. He recently volunteered at the Milestone Foundation. He enjoyed reading, walking on the beach and playing his guitar.

Survivors include a daughter, Lauren Allen of Oxford; a stepson, Jared Martin of Oxford; his parents, Susan and Larry Litchfield of Sumner; his maternal grandmother, Evelyn Chamberlain of West Paris; his paternal grandmother, Carolyn Litchfield of Sumner; a sister, Karen and her husband William Heald of West Paris; three brothers, Larry Litchfield of Maryland, Gary Litchfield of Buckfield, William and his wife Teresa of Goffstown, N.H.; several nieces and nephews; a great-nephew, William Lucas; and a large extended family. He was predeceased by his father, Owen Bonney; and grandfathers, Wilbur Chamberlain and Walter Litchfield.

Graveside services will be held at the Pleasant Pond Cemetery on Saturday, June 29 at 9:30 a.m., with Marilyn Hammond officiating. Memorial donations may be made to Big Brothers Big Sisters of Oxford Hills.

James and Esther Booth of Norway are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby boy, Anthony James, born on June 14, 2002 at Stephens Memorial Hospital, weighing 8 pounds, 15 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Donald and Roberta Morin of Albany Township.

Paternal grandparents are Susan Neily of Gorham and Ronald Booth of Charlestown, R.I.

Lauren Head and Robert Baribeau of Bethel are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby boy, Alexander Baxter Baribeau, born on June 14, 2002, at Stephens Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 6 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Marilyn Head of Williamstown, Mass., and Gene Head of Belle Harbor, N.Y.

Paternal grandparents are Henry and Elizabeth Baribeau of Brunswick.

Alexander Baxter joins sisters Elizabeth, 17, and Hillary, 13, and brothers Yves, 15, and R. Scot, 10.

Kayce Gilbert and Jacob Lane of Bethel are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby girl, Jadyne Elizabeth Lane, born on June 12, 2002 at Stephens Memorial Hospital, weighing 8 pounds, 11 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Randy Gilbert of Bethel and Mindy Gilbert of Bethel.

Paternal grandparents are Richard and Debbie Phillips of Bethel.

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one. I'd like to leave an Afterglow of smiles when day is done.

I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days. I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun of happy memories that I leave behind when day is done.

Would you entrust your loved one to anyone other than a COMMUNITY FRIEND?

Losing a loved one - whether suddenly or expectedly - is the most difficult ordeal we face. Yet, hundreds of decisions must be made in preparing to say goodbye.

It's a time when you rely on someone outside the family to help you make arrangements. Because you place your trust in that person, shouldn't it be a community friend with a tradition of service?

As your locally owned funeral firm, we live, work, volunteer and socialize in your community. We have for generations. We know the neighborhood and genuinely care about serving our friends and neighbors.

We are compassionate caregivers and licensed professionals. Best of all, we are your community friend when you need one most.

If you'd like more information on the services we offer, please contact us.
